Notes from Paia.

MR. EDITOR: On the evening of the 1st inst., Mr. Manoel Morgado, a Portuguese employed on Paia plantation, invited several gentlemen in the neighborhood to witness an examination of the pupils attending the night school taught by him, the object of which is to afford an opportunity to Portuguese children to acquire a rudimentary education in their own language which they cannot obtain in the Government schools. The exercises gone through evidenced painstaking efforts on the part of the teacher, Allen, Auditor, of the Mutual Telephone the reading and writing of the pupils being particularly deserving of praise. The action of this gentleman in voluntarily inaugurating and conducting this school is deserving of recognition.

In connection with school matters I wish to refer to a communication which appeared in the weekly GAZETTE of August 28th from "Observer," Spreckelsville. This observant paterfamilias, at least we will presume that he is one, begins by asking why the Government loes not establish schools for the children of white mechanics at whatever out-of-the-way place or plantation they may for a brief season elect to live! As well ask the Government to supply these self-exiled gentry with private tutors for their offspring, to be paid at the expense of the general taxpayer. "Observer" seems to think, perhaps by some physiological reasoning, that bringing children of different nationalities under the same roof will result in transforming them into a sort of volapukian mixture by which each will lose its distinctive race characteristics. Again he makes the astounding observation that the children for whose welfare he is so solicitous will learn more evil in one hour in the Government school than it is possible for them to learn of good in twelve months! Here is something that certainly deserves the attention of the Government, for either its schools are howling pandemoniums worthy the tutelage of the Prince of Sheol, or on the other hand these white children must have a slow to pick up a grain of good. In the latter case, if this is the result of evolution, I fear the Caucasian race will be left far behind in the struggle for the survival of the fittest. As a member of that family I hope neither of the above surmises have any foundation; rather will I believe that the observations of "Observer" were made through defective optics and that his deductions there-

Status of the Chinese Amendment in View of its Corrupt Defeat.

MR. EDITOR: Pertinent to the hour and in view of the developments being made in the legislative inquiry into the bribery cases, and the facts already established, I would like to inquire:

What is to be the result of this investigation as directly affecting the interests of a large majority of the eligible voters ment at auction on Thursday went as of this Kingdom? Are we to see a re-follows: been consummated and made possible by the frauds that are being brought out? Or are we to be told once more that the law will not permit of justice being done perpetuating the Government?

It would seem that these developments are a godsend to those of our Oahu Nobles and Representatives who voted for indefinite postponement, giving them an opportunity of redeeming themselves from the error of their ways, in the eyes of their constituents, by voting the will of the people. If after the demonstration at the late convention, the adoption by that body of a strong anti-Chinese plank for their platform, and the resulting election of the Reform candidate on that platform, those members should still be in doubt as to their duty, let them call a meeting of their constituents, and I for one will gladly abide by the result of such an interview between representatives and people.

I should think that Mr. P. C. Jones must feel prouder than ever of Gentleman John, in view of present develop-ments of the latter's "childlike and bland" exercise of influence in Hawaiian

THE SHOOTING MATCH.

M. Dowsett Wins the Silver Cup-Seventeen Birds out of Twenty-The

There were fourteen competitors in the clay pigeon shooting match, for a silver cup presented by Lieut. Douglas-Hamilton of H. B. M. S. Hyacinth, at Lishman's pasture on Saturday afternoon. The town marksmen were Messrs. J. H. Fisher, E. I. Spalding, Judge, Dole, C. Livingstone, C. Hustace, jr., C. B. Wilson, J. Rothwell, F. Hustace, J. M. Dowsett and C. H. Nicoll, and those from the Hyacinth Lieuts. Ashe, Hyne, Douglas-Hamilton, and Growse. Heavy rain that prevailed in town kindly stood off a respectful distance from the scene of the match, the margin of the showers coming up close to the other side of the field. Mr. Dowsett won the cup, for, although two of the visitors tied him, they had allowed the home shooters to decide the honor among themselves, leaving their own last four shots until after the winner was declared. Messrs. Fisher and Nicoll shot at double birds for second place, and Fisher won by breaking both his birds while Nicoll made a miss with one of his. There was some good pool shooting both before and after the main match. #### MARINE MISHAP.

Grounding of the Castle-Floated and Towed to Fort-The Damage.

The American barkentine S. N. Castle, Captain L. H. Hubbard, sailed from San Francisco August 17th with a cargo of general merchandise including nearly fifty boxes of explosives consigned to Messrs. Castle & Cooke. Fine weather and variable winds were experienced the whole passage. At half-past four o'clock on Thursday morning, Sept. 6th, both Captain Hubbard and his chief officer were on deck, the third mate having just gone below. The wind was blowing pretty fair but a heavy squall piped up and nothing could be seen a little off from the vessel. At that time the Castle moving at a very good rate struck the coral reef off the Hon. A. F. Judd's summer residence, Kualoa, Koolaupoko,

Oahu, and remained there. The breeze soon died away and the sea became quite smooth. Soon after Capt. Hubbard saw the breakers and also perceived the faint glimmer of a light burning in a little hut on the seashore. All hands were called up on deck and every effort to clear the vessel from her dangerous position was exerted but in vain, for the vessel was very fast on a large coral reef and was striking heavily At 6:30 a. m. the Captain landed and went to Chief Justice Judd's house which had just been vacated, and telephoned to Honolulu the information of the disaster, the news stirring the business community generally. Kedge anchors were put out and after working continuously on them for nearly three hours the Castle got clear of the first reef and was floated into deep water.

The danger was not, however, yet over, for there was another reef surrounding the vessel on every side on which she got stuck a second time after floating a little while. The crew again employed the kedge anchors, and commenced working to get the vessel off again. I was nearly 12 o'clock noon before they 011101111001010111110-13 succeeded this time in floating the vesse 11110000110010111000-10 in deep water, where she remained till 01010101111111011110-14 the arrival of the steamers J. A. Cummins and Waimanalo, and these vessels took the now disabled barkentine in tow. Native divers, who were engaged by Captain Hubbard to ascertain the damages sustained by the Castle, reported both the false keel and the keel proper completely carried away.

The tug Elen, which left Honolulu at 8 o'clock, having on board Pilot Babcock and Messrs. J. B. Atherton, Jos. Gilman, Staples, Capt. A. H. Paul, and about ten natives, arrived over a little before I o'clock, and found the S. N. Castle in tow of the Cummins and Waimanalo. The Waimanalo leaving for Waimanalo, the Eleu took her place, and towed the S. N. Castle to port, arriving here a little after sunset. Captain Hubbard stated that the vessel was leaking, the engine being kept steadily at work pumping, but he believed the cargo was not damaged at all. The Castle was docked next morning, and, after discharging cargo, will be hauled on the Marine Railway to receive a new keel and shoe,

The Proposed Hospital.

A gentleman well qualified to speak on the subject, when casually interviewed by our reporter, gave the opinion that the projected strangers' infirmary, for which a grant of land was asked the Legislature, would better be attached to the Queen's Hospital under held on WEDNESDAY, Outober 10th, at 10 a. m. appropriate legislation, there being even now a good deal of spare accommodation in that institution. #### Quarterly Meeting of Queen's Hospital Trustees.

A quarterly meeting of the trustees of the Queen's Hospital was held Friday morning, Hon C. R. Bishop in the chair. The physician's report was read and accepted. The visiting committee made a satisfactory report on the condition of the Hospital. Hons. M. P. Robinson, H. A. Widemann and S. M. Damon were appointed visiting committee for the ensuing quarter. The death of the Hon. S. G. Wilder was remarked upon by the Hon. C. R. Bishop in feeling terms. Hon. W. C.
